Sara P.
Systems Engineer

The Space Dynamics Laboratory (SDL) has been solving the technical challenges faced by the military, science community, and industry since 1959. To do our part as a trusted agent for the Government, we are looking for talented individuals with strong engineering, technical, and/or leadership skills. We work with all engineering disciplines and hire a broad range of support staff, from machine shop and electronic assembly fabrication technicians to quality assurance and accounting specialists.
